All the information follows the scope and sequence from McGraw-H How is reading your first grader? Do they sound more like a stop-and-go robot than a smooth, confident reader? How can we help authority readers improve their readability? Two words: Viewing words! Using activities such as these Printable first-quality sight word worksheets are an awesome way to build fluency! What are sight words? The viewing words are exactly what they sound like... words readers know automatically when they see them. The reader has actually memorized the words to recognize them immediately and read them without trying to tell letter sounds or use any other decoding strategy. Why do we teach words of vision? Viewing words are often used throughout the text and as soon as children learn them, they learn, easier for them. Then they can spend their energy decoding more difficult words. Reading fluency and understanding is also starting to improve. In addition, their confidence as a reader increases with each, I know the word!! Dolts, Fry, High Frequency Words... God! Google the phrase: Viewing word list. Your search request will result in pages and pages of all different types of word lists. So, what list of words should children learn? You guess-all of them! Of course it's all important for readers to learn, but the Dolch Sight Words List is the most commonly used to teach sight words. There are a total of 220 words on the Dols word list. Words are grouped by grade, starting with pre-K and passing the 3rd grade. First Grade Dolch Words List The first degree Dolch Sight Words List contains 41 words. These words appear in this printable word pack sight. Words included: after, again, one, every, like, ask, from, could, any, fly, from, give, go, had, has, she, him, his, how, just, know, let, live, can, his, old, once, open, over, put, round, some, stop, take, thank you, them, then, think, walk, was, when. Printable worksheets Each worksheet has six different activities to give authority readers a lot of practical work with first-class sight words. The children will read the word, locate the word, build the word, write the word, write the word, find and paint the word. Word.
